LOCAL COWBOY OFF TO A HAT-FLYING START - Cory Johnson of Heinsburg cracks out on "Snake Eyes" in the Novice Bareback Riding at Whitney Lake Rodeo.

Sun shines on Whitney Lake Rodeo

Just over 200 contestants and small but enthusiastic crowds saw no sign of the hail clouds and downpours that dampened last year's competition as they took part in two days of wild western action at Whitney Lake Rodeo this weekend.

Following a colorful Grand Entry of flag-bearing riders, the Bareback Bronc Riding started off the action at Sunday's final go-round, with no qualified rides on Saturday giving the cowboys a clean slate to go after. Dean Cruikshank was second out of the chute on "Anderson Road" and scored a 68, but was quickly moved down to second place by Ted Hehr of Sherwood Park, currently third in the Lakeland Rodeo Association standings, who marked a tidy 75 aboard "Flash Back" to win the event sponsored by Shamrock Valley Enterprises.

The new generation of bronc riders was next out of the chutes in the Novice Horse Riding, with Trevor Wittmack's 65 score from Saturday on "Anchor D" keeping him ahead of local cowboy CJ Best, who placed second with 62 points on "Holy Moses." L.O. Herefords and Wm. J. Ringland sponsored the event.

Two other Junior titles were finalized in the first half of Sunday's rodeo, as Malcolm Anderson of Grand Centre marked 74 on a reride to win the Junior Steer Riding, moving Saturday's leader Jared Miller of Niton Junction, with a 73, down to second hole in the event sponsored by UFA and Meredith Whiteside Petroleum. Sunday's riders, however, could not better the time of 16.44 seconds put forth by Pam Veer of Elk Point in the Junior Barrel Racing, sponsored by Western Pride Auctions.

Steer Wrestling was also decided Saturday, with a tie between Dean Lawes of Provost and Charlie Young of Elk Point, both with 4.5 second runs, remaining after the one man who could have broken it also broke the barrier and lost his chance at the John Lypowy Farms trophy.

Nor could any of Sunday's 14 efforts come close to Rob Cunningham's 8.8 second run in Saturday's Calf Roping. The Leduc cowboy's award was sponsored by Little's of Vermilion and Webb's of Vermilion.

Stoney Lake Stampede a dust-up

It was hot, dusty, hard-grinding — and one of the most successful Stoney Lake Stampedes ever.

"The committee was very, very happy with the attendance. Saturday was excellent, and Sunday was very good too," stock contractor Les Trach said.

The rodeo also offered the cowboys some great moments, including a number of excellent rides and no serious injuries.

"There was a very good entry in every event, and we saw lots of local and former-local cowboys winning."

In addition to the regular fare, a heavy horse pull and an entertaining new event —

Canada's first miniature horse pull — drew an enthusiastic response from the crowd.

Following are the weekend's results:

Bareback: Ted Hehr (first, 77); Dean Cruikshank (second, 74).

Saddle Bronc: Dustin Bowman (first, 73); Boyd Mahon (second, 69).

Bull Riding: Dion Roscoe (first, 76); Darren Krawiec/Craig McPhee (tied second, 75).

Calf Roping: Guy Perozak (first, 9.4); Lance Tulloch (second, 11.6).

Steer Wrestling: Steve Friend (first, 3.9); Colin Gamrot/Donnie Vincett/Dale Butterwick (tied second, 4.8).

Team Roping: Jack Rennie/Donnie Vincett (tied first, 7.3); Rocky Ross/Steven Gilbert (tied second, 8.5).

Barrel Racing: Janice Waltze (first, 16.648); Lonnie Shulko (second, 16.731).

Junior Barrel Racing: Erica Nielsen (first, 16.963); Deanna Lyle (second, 17.259).

Parks Day - take a hike!

Come out and enjoy the back country trails of Whitney Lakes Provincial Park this Parks Day, Saturday, July 15. Park rangers will be leading a hike about 7 km long to the Esker from Whitney Lakes Campground. Bring your trail snacks, something to drink, some bug spray and don't forget your binoculars as you will see all types of birds and other wildlife. Participants will meet at the Whitney Lake Campground at 1:00 p.m. on Saturday (or 11:00 a.m. on Sunday in the event of bad weather).

All participants will be entered in the National "Parks Day" contest to win an all-expenses-paid trip for two to any National Park in the world; a trip for two to anywhere Air Canada flies in North America, the Bahamas, Bermuda or Europe; or one of three World Vac vacuum cleaners.

Come on out, get your exercise and enjoy a great natural experience.

MIGHTY MITES - John Drobot is driving smaller horses these days. He placed second with this tiny pulling team in the Miniature Horse Pull at Stoney Lake Stampede.

McGregor family bid farewell

It's hard to say goodbye to a family which has become such a part of the community's life. That was the general feeling last Monday night as close to sixty people gathered at the Elk Point Baptist Church to bid farewell to John and Roberta McGregor and their four children, who are leaving Elk Point to live in Saskatoon after a visit to their Irish homeland.

The church was a fitting setting for the event. John McGregor was the pastor who, with the help of his congregation, made the handsome structure a reality, building it with their own hands from the ground up.

Many of those present remembered those early days, and mentioned them in their tributes. Lois Ramer, accompanied by daughter Sara, sang "Beautiful Savior." Rev. Sam Donaldson of the Christian Community Church, was unable to attend, but sent along a tape "to help John bush up on his Irish idiom."

Adele Johnson, a former member of the Baptist Church youth group, told the gathering, "John had the most faith in me when I was just starting out in song writing," and sang her latest composition, which will soon be recorded by Loree Germain, "Something Indescribable"

Rick and Leona Peters said they "did a little bit of church-hopping" when they first moved to the area, but joined the Baptist congregation after McGregor came to console them after a tragedy in their lives. Rick said they were "fortunate to be part of John and Roberta's church as it grew. There are so many memories; we're so blessed that we could share this with you."

Margaret Modin recalled when John first came and talked about starting a congregation, and she told him, "If you aren't going to stay, don't come." She recalled "the most vibrant youth group this church has ever known," and many exciting things in the first few years.

Jim MacLellan, who has taken John's place as pastor, knows John as a friend and "a great encourager. He understands the full spectrum and has walked in these mocasins." He commended John for his ministry in Elk Point, for working hard with his own hands, and for his caring about the congregation. Regarding the move to Saskatoon, MacLellan said "God chose you... and will provide all your needs." He commended Roberta for her "wonderful gift of mercy."

Roberta was delegated by her family for a thank you speech after the presentation of an engraved silver tray, and said "We appreciate it, and appreciate all of you." The engraved farewell message reads, "For ye shall go out with joy and be led forth with peace." (Isaiah 55:12)

John told his former congregation, "It has been so good to be part of what God has done." He has followed Jesus for 26 years, and said that he grew up in Northern Ireland, and has had no theological training, "but today I preach to preachers. When we are at the end of ourselves, we are at the beginning of God."

Lois and Carl Ramer, who celebrated their wedding anniversary at the farewell party, said they have appreciated the friendship of the entire McGregor family, and "never heard a negative comment about them." Lucille

Povashuk spoke about the McGregor children, who she remembers with great fondness, the morning prayer times she has shared with Roberta and Sherry Oszust, and John, "who was always there when we needed him."

Vicki Brooker added a few memories of John's "other side of life" as a printer and ad salesman with the Review.

Ralph Johnson, who was another member of the early youth group, said it is "wonderful to see the church still growing, and the youth group is the future of the church." He and Adele sang "Amazing Grace" to end the evening.

Notice to Farmers in

Manitoba, Saskatchewan, Alberta, British Columbia (Peace River & Creston-Wynndel)

The Government of Canada is paying $1.6 billion through the Western Grain Transition Payments Program to farmland owners in recognition of the impact of ending the Western Grain Transportation Act (WGTA) subsidy.

Payments will be made to those who owned at least 50 acres of land on February 28, 1995, on which an annual crop of grain was grown or summerfallowed in 1994.

Application forms are being mailed to farmland owners identified through municipal records. You may also qualify if you were in the process of purchasing land on that date.

If you have not received your package by July 31, contact the program administration.

Benefit to Tenants

Where land is rented out, landowners have been asked to come to a mutually satisfactory arrangement with their tenants or their payment may be withheld. Tenants with objections must state them, in writing, to the program administration before October 15, 1995.

It's hard to say goodbye

It's often hard to say goodbye when a friend moves out of town, but it's even harder when that person has been an important part of your life.

We first met John McGregor at Elk Point's first ever Canada Day celebration. He was the pastor of the fledgling Baptist congregation and was there to offer a prayer as part of the ceremony, which then was held in the Elks Hall parking lot and on the open grassy area where the library now stands. He said he hadn't always been a preacher, in fact he had worked for a newspaper.

Before long, he was working for a newspaper again - our opposition, at that time, a very new newspaper called the Lakeland Review. He was still there when the St. Paul Journal purchased the Review, and we got to know him better. He was the best-ever advertising salesman, and often reminded those of us who wrote the news that it was "just something to fill in around the ads with." He also ran the commercial printing department, and did wonders with the ancient and rickety press which literally ran on a wing and a lot of prayers.

The Review staff was sad when John left us, but we knew he had a much higher calling, to spread even better News than we could ever provide the world with. He became someone who was often in the news, as he and his growing congregation built their church and held services and events there. We still saw him often and could call on him for friendly advice as needed. We didn't get to know Roberta and the McGregor children well, but those who did, came to value their friendships highly.

When John joined the Billy Graham Crusade, we saw him less. Now we will see him less again, and once again, our loss is others' gain. The Lord has called, and he must answer. We wish him and his family all the best.

Five guidelines for punishment

By Dr. Arnold Rincover

Child Behavioral Psychologist

Punishment is the most controversial topic in child-rearing. It is defined as any kind of negative retribution. Disapproval or reprimand is as much a form of punishment as slapping a child's hand. Most children are heartbroken if you take away a toy, bring them home from the playground, send their friend home or refuse to play with them. It is rarely necessary to hit a child.

Research on parental punishment reveals that it is effective if parents use it in an appropriate manner. Punishment has five criteria:

1. A parent must use more praise than punishment. Punishment should never dominate the relationship between child and parent. Parents should praise their children for good behavior on a regular basis.

2. A child must be taught an alternative and appropriate behavior. Punishment should never be used on its own.

3. The child should be made to understand what behavior is unacceptable. For example, saying "no" will pair the verbal command with the punishment.

4. The punishment must be negative so that the child understands that something was wrong. Parents should realize that most forms of punishment include attention. For some children, attention is positive even if it is negative attention. This is especially true of children who do not get a lot of positive attention from parents. Many parents combine positive and negative reactions to a misbehavior, thereby confusing a child. They may have a long talk, feel guilty and comfort a child after a punishment is given. This will make the child associate a bad behavior with positive attention.

5. Parents must give punishment consistently with the misbehavior. The message must not be confusing to the child. If the child is punished on one occasion, then the child must be punished again if the misbehavior is repeated. If not, the child will spend time trying to figure out when he/she will "get away with it."

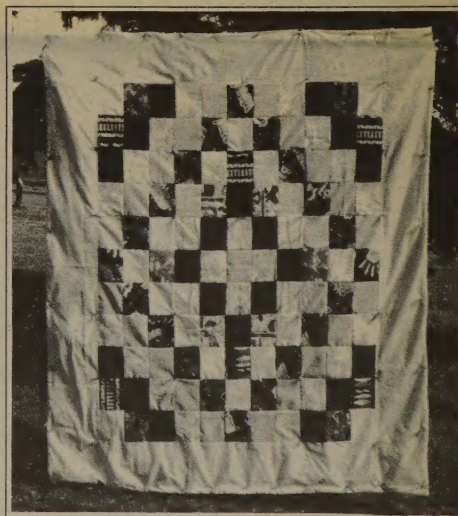

The rate of misbehavior should decrease substantially if these guidelines are followed. Research has shown that if all of these conditions are employed whenever punishment is used, it can be effective and it need not have detrimental effects on the child or a parent's relationship with that child. Punishment should not be used as a matter of convenience, but rather only out of necessity.

Quilting at Further Ed

By Verona Lea Flanders

Further Ed Coordinator

An energetic group of ladies has been meeting periodically over the last year and a half at the Elk Point and District Further Education Centre to make quilts. To date we have completed 32 quilts. In turn the quilters donate the quilts to various agencies and individuals who are in need. Some quilts have been given to the Bissell Centre in Edmonton, the St. Paul Crisis Centre, the Bonnyville Canadian Native Friendship Centre, Parkview Extended Care, local families and the Red Cross. We have a lot of fun while we quilt and anyone who is interested is welcome to join us. No quilting experience is necessary, only enthusiasm!

TIC Talk

Tourist Information Clerk

Again this year we would like to thank Helen and Vern Benner of Benner's Greenhouse for our lush and colorful flower beds. Every year they supply us with a vivid array of spectacular petunia varieties. This year we have deep scarlet and wonderful dark purple varieties as well as variegated pinks.

June 15 is Parks Day. To celebrate, The Whitney Lakes

Provincial Park is organizing a special 7 km. 'Take a Hike' walk near Borden Lake to the Esker, a weird geological formation left over from the last Ice Age. If you would like to join this fun walk or would like more information, phone the Park Ranger Station at 943-3761.

Looking for something to do? Stop in at the Tourist Information Centre (TIC) for a complete list of what's happening in the area. There are rodeos, chuckwagon races, fairs, agricultural shows, powwows, fish derbies, demolition derbies, tournaments, farmers' markets and other upcoming events. So don't miss out.

NEWS FLASH: We will post the chuckwagon race results from the Calgary Stampede at the Information Centre each day for the remainder of the Stampede for your convenience.

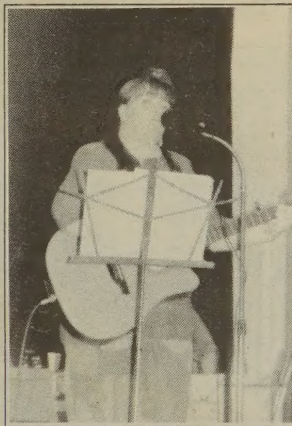

MINISTRY IN MUSIC - by Kene and Millie Jackson was much enjoyed by the Gospel Concert crowd.

VOCALIST HENRY BOTTING - was accompanied by Babe Sharkey on violin and Doreen Younghans on accordion.

Asthma campaign successful

The Alberta Lung Association reports generous support of their 1995 "Back the Attack" on asthma and allergies campaign in this area. The communities of Clandonald, Elk Point, Lindbergh and Heinsburg, with the help of local volunteers Wendy Isert, Shaina Gadowski, Georgina Morris and Arlene Bendixen, raised $1760 for the cause. Province-wide, over $1 million was raised in support of education and research into asthma and allergies.

DEBBIE LAWRENCE - entertained with several numbers at the Gospel Concert.

Jacksons headline Canada Day Gospel Concert

Calgary based gospel singers Kene and Millie Jackson were the featured performers at Elk Point's Canada Day Gospel Concert, July 2. A variety of local talent also took part in the evening, which was enjoyed by a good crowd on hand for this final event of the Canada Day weekend.

Kene is originally from Goodfish Lake, where his parents, evangelists Bill and Shirley Jackson, still reside. He met Millie when he went on a music and evangelistic tour with her uncle back in 1978 and visited Cormorant, Manitoba, "a little town in the sticks." Her uncle had promised Kene "lots of money for going on tour, but when it was over, he didn't have any. I took his niece instead," Kene joked.

Kene started his musical career even before that. Two years earlier, at the age of 16, he had played in a dance band named "Sweet Sunset." This was a band which "dreamed of Nashville, but we only got to Radway." One day, he realized that this type of music didn't have the real meaning he felt it should have and made the move to gospel. He has been involved in gospel music since 1981, first with his brother Randy in the Sonrise band for six years, then as host of the Tribal Trails television show. For the last 5 years he has worked in Calgary with the Native Evangelical Fellowship of Canada, where he is a director. The Jacksons are on tour this summer, and will visit native churches and camps across the country, getting home in good time for their two sons, 12 and 15, to start the hockey season. They also have a daughter, 17.

Kene and Millie's ministry in music included a variety of numbers, from "On the Battlefield for my Lord" to "A Heart Like Abraham" to "If it Wasn't for You," and included one song in Cree, which translates as "Jesus Died For Me." They were given a standing ovation at the conclusion of the concert, and added an encore, "The God of the Mountain."

The Jacksons also ministered at the July 2 morning service of Elk Point Baptist Church and were very warmly received.

The Gospel Concert was opened by Deanna Easthope, who led O Canada, while Rev. Sam Donaldson of Elk Point

Christian Community Church brought greetings from the Canada Day Committee and an opening prayer. Rev. Jim MacLellan was the MC.

Debbie Lawrence accompanied herself on guitar for "Til All the Lonely's Gone" and on mandolin for "Through This Pilgrim Land." She returned later in the evening with "The Cowboy Blessing."

Pianist John Bennett entertained with "Why Me, Lord" and "Put Your Hand in the Hand", later playing "I'll Fly Away" and "I Found the Answer."

Henry Botting, Babe Sharkey and Doreen Younghans added guitar, violin, banjo and accordion to their offering of "Just A Closer Walk With Thee" and "Do, Lord," as well as "Silver Haired Daddy of Mine" and "Come Walk With Me."

Doreen, on keyboard, and Debbie, on guitar, accompanied a group of singers from the Christian Community Church in "It's Not What's Over the Door" and "Mansion Over the Hilltop."

Roy Scott completed the evening with the recitation of "The Cowboy's Prayer."

Whitney Lake Rodeo

NOBODY'S DARLING - At least not Gordie Lambert's, is this high-hopping steed named "Dixie Darling" who fought in the chute before heading out for this picture perfect Saddle Bronc ride which earned Lambert second prize money.

BEST DRESSED DUDE - Warren Jurak was all dressed up in his western best for the Whitney Lake Rodeo and won the Best Dressed Cowboy award from Kenna Hillebrand.

Whitney Lake stampedes in the hot July sun

Saturday was also the lucky day in the Team Roping, with Albert Monroe and Malcolm McKenzie of Lafond clocking in at 8.3 seconds to win the Agland trophy.

Saddle Bronc riders, on the other hand, had no benchmark to overcome. Gordie Lambert of High Level came a long way to put in a 64 point effort on a tedious chute fighter which turned into an extremely high buck, "Dixie Darling," but was moved down to second spot by veteran cowboy Gerry Walker of Pierceland, who rode "White Foot" for 71 points. Dumont Welding and Investments sponsored the event.

A total of 46 Ladies Barrel Racing competitors made their trip around the cloverleaf over the weekend, with Shelley Jones of Sundre clocking the winning time of 15.962 for the Terry Wozniak Bulk Petroleum Sales trophy.

Bull Riding saw a number of spectacular spills and only two qualified rides Sunday afternoon, with Stuart Anderson of Grand Centre repeating his win at Saddle Lake on "Cocaine" with a 74 point ride to move Troy Dubie, who rode "Red Wrangler" in the slack for 72 points, down to second. Derek Hehr of Gibbons, with a good effort on "Terminator" was third with 71. Bull Riding was sponsored by BJ Trucking.

As always, Whitney Lake wound up their rodeo with a "Wild Ride" on previously untried horses. Gerry Walker, dressed up as an old timer with long white hair and a cane, showed us how he'll do the job a couple of decades down the road, with a combined point score of 155 for his ride and his costume. Local cowboy Cory Johnson, warmly dressed in a buffalo coat, placed second with 137 points. Flint Canada Inc., CJ Petroleum, L & N Auto Repair and Tags sponsored the event.

The highlight of the rodeo, however, came very last, when Walter Skolarchuk of the organizing committee made his ride, dressed in welding goggles and leather apron. He collected almost a thousand dollars in contributions for his ride, which, like his never-before-ridden mount, was a little on the short side, but very entertaining.

Hillebrand Farms provided the trophies for the Best Dressed Cowboy and Cowgirl, which were won by local cowboy Warren Jurak and Shelly Lynn Merchant of Lac La Biche.

A number of other sponsors also contributed to the success of the weekend, including Little Stinkers Corral Cleaning, Shakey's Bus Service & Trucking, Heinsburg Esso, Fountain Tire, Wowk's Petroleum & Fertilizer and Pan Canadian Petroleum, who sponsored the chutes, and Nilsson Bros. Livestock, UFA Vermilion and Feed Rite, who sponsored the Sunday morning breakfast.

BEST DRESSED COWGIRL - was Shelly Lynn Merchant of Lac La Biche, who accepted the Hillebrand Farms trophy.

FLYING HIGH ON "COCAINE" - Stuart Anderson of Grand Centre marked a 74 on this airborne bull ride to win the BJ Trucking trophy.

GET OFF MY BACK, MAN! This bull was in a bad humor to start with, and now he has to carry around this fella with spurs on his boots for as long as 8 seconds, unless he can unload his pesky burden before that.

YOU'RE NOT GOIN' ANYWHERE! - This little dogie finds himself at the end of his rope in Sunday's Calf Roping at Stoney Lake. He will be thrown and have three legs tied together for a five second interval before regaining his freedom.

EDMONTON TOURISM

New hotelier sees potential in Elk Point

Arun Chakravarty has spent most of his life involved with tourism - first as an airline pilot with three major airlines, and then as a motel owner. Now he and wife Bea, an elementary school teacher in Edmonton, have purchased the Elk Point Hotel.

Elk Point is half a world away from both the countries where Arun's flying career was based in Singapore, Jordan and India, and the country where he first owned a motel - Australia. It's even a fair distance from the USA, where he is still involved in several businesses. Somewhat closer is his first Canadian business, the Parkland Hotel in Rimbey, which the Chakravartys purchased after seeing an ad in an Edmonton paper.

Their success in that small Alberta community led them to believe that getting into the hospitality business in other rural towns would be a good investment. Rimbey is another oil-based community, and Arun heard about Elk Point from some of the Pan Canadian people there, who felt the oil business in this area was on an upswing. When he heard the hotel here was for sale, he quickly put in an offer and was accepted. He hopes to purchase other small town hotels as well, because he feels the return on investment is better in rural areas.

Arun is quick to say that he is "not here to sell in a few years and go away." He finds Elk Point's people very friendly, and the town with plenty of potential for growth.

His first step is to find out what his customers and potential customers want in the way of entertainment and food - "what kind of fun can I offer them?" He also hopes to upgrade the twelve rooms for occupancy, and says that with a big lot, "we have room for expansion." From an investor's point of view, he feels the market here "seems to be ready for expansion," and that the trend could continue for 3 to 5 years.

ARUN AND BEA CHAKAVARTY - are ready to extend their hospitality to patrons of the Elk Point Hotel and liquor store. Drop in and see them soon.

Dewberry teamster Buddy Bensmiller takes Calgary lead

Seventeen of the top Canadian Professional Chuckwagon Association wagons are now four days into the competition at the Calgary Stampede Rangeland Derby, with Buddy Bensmiller of Calgary recording the fastest time of the show so far on Sunday night, a 1:17.96, to move into the total-time lead after three days of running. Ray Mitsuing was the only other CPCA driver in the top ten after three days, and was sitting ninth.

Last weekend saw 37 wagons competing at Meadow Lake, Saskatchewan, where Mitsuing, who is currently leading the season by a comfortable 32 points, racked up a win, two seconds and a third for a four day total time of 4:14.10 to win the meet. Harold McCarthy of Tisdale, SK was second with 4:15.90, while Brian Laboucane placed third and fourth.

For the convenience of our CPCA fans, the daily chuckwagon results from Calgary will be posted at the Tourist Information Centre, so drop in and check them out.

What's news at the library?

Read Around The World is going great

By Michele Duczek
Librarian

For the second time this year, a dedicated group has come out in the middle of a long weekend to help raise funds for the library. The Friends of the Elk Point Library had another successful Sunday evening bingo, braving the heat and incredible humidity of St. Paul's Club Bingo to earn nearly $2000. The library and all who use it owe these people a debt of gratitude. The next bingo is Saturday afternoon, September 9.

The first week of READ AROUND THE WORLD had 36 participants at two sessions. We explored North America and some of the kids were surprised to learn that everyone in the program had been there. The pinatas were a big hit as always. Anyone interested in the summer reading program and not already registered can do so at the library. For the third week of READ AROUND THE WORLD we will be travelling way down to Antarctica. Haul out your warmest clothes for a chilly trip to the land of ice and penguins.

Still more additions to the library collection"

Math for the Very Young by Lydia Polonsky, Dorothy Freedman, Susan Leshner and Kate Morrison shows parents and teachers how they can instill comfort and confidence with math in children from preschool to second grade.

Come Like Shadows by Welwyn Wilton Katz is a juvenile thriller set in Stratford, Ontario and involves a haunted mirror, time travel and William Shakespeare's "MacBeth." Katz's False Face freaked me out a little when I read it and this might do the same. We do have other titles by Katz at the library as well.

Out of the Blue by Sarah Ellis was shortlisted for the 1994 Governor General's Literary Award. The juvenile novel tells the story of Megan who gets more than she bargains for from her parents on her twelfth birthday. Pick-Up Sticks, also by Ellis, was a nominee for last year's Young Readers Choice Awards.

LIBRARY CALENDAR:
Tuesday and Thursday mornings, 10:30 a.m. - noon:

Read Around The World Summer Reading Program. Registration is $1 for the whole summer. See librarian for details.

School camps very successful

The Elk Point Elementary School has been conducting outdoor education camps for close to 20 years.

This year's Grade 5 and 6 camps were held at the United Church Camp on Whitney Lake. The Grade 6 camp was 4 days and 3 nights in length, June 5, 6, 7 and 8. The Grade 5 camp was 3 days and 2 nights in length, June 21, 22 and 23.

A wide variety of instructional sessions were offered including canoeing, archery, orienteering and craft sessions, to name a few.

Parents were invited to both camps for parent-night activities which included scavenger hunts, volleyball and borden-ball games. A super turnout of parents at both camps culminated with hot chocolate and coffee around the campfire.

A huge number of volunteers provided transportation of equipment, assistance in the kitchen, instructional sessions and snacks for the parent nights. The staff and students of Elk Point Elementary would like to thank all the volunteers that assisted with making this year's camps the best ever!

A special thanks to Maria Salt, Flora Kuzyk and Ida

Maksymec for those fabulous meals they provided as head cooks for this year's camps!

Hildegunde Naber receives degree

Hildegunde Naber of Elk Point was awarded a Bachelor of General Studies from Athabasca University at its convocation ceremony held in Athabasca on June 10. Over 750 graduates and guests attended the ceremony.

Mrs. Naber was one of 157 students who graduated with degrees in arts, science, administration, commerce, nursing and general studies.

Athabasca University utilizes open, distance education to remove traditional barriers that restrict access to, and success in, university studies.

LOOKING GOOD! The provincial champion Elk Point Bantam Lightning Elks and their coaching staff proudly show off their brand new Provincial jackets which commemorate the awesome end to their 1994-95 season.

Red Robyns fly high

By Candace Ference

Coach

After winning their way through Zones on the weekend of June 17 and 18, our Elk Point Pee Wee Girls Provincial team gave our town a reason to be proud. Not only did they play well, but they earned their spot in the Provincial playoffs held July 1, 2 and 3 in Millet.

Our weekend of ball started off a little rough with 2 losses against us. After losing against one Edmonton team and one Calgary team, the girls got some rest, pulled up their socks and went on to win their next two games against Spirit River and Medicine Hat.

Having 2 losses and 2 wins, the girls were put in a tie-breaking position against the Calgary team that defeated them 18-1 in 5 innings on Saturday. Though it was this game that we lost which ended our weekend, I am proud to say the girls only lost it by a score of 10-9 in 7 innings. They really showed Calgary what Elk Point was made of! Elk Point ranked 4th out of 11 teams.

It was a weekend of hard ball, and not only did the girls do very well but they made quite an impression on the teams there. It was mentioned to us, and I quote, "We have decided that you have the biggest team, but the best looking, here." It was also told to us by umpires, fans and fellow teams that we had one of the most sportsmanlike teams out of all eleven. These compliments alone made the girls feel like true winners and we from Elk Point know that they are. Congratulations, girls on an excellent weekend of ball, we're looking forward to you doing us proud again next year.

The team would like to send a sincere thank you to the following: Tarsands Steam Cleaning for donating the team hats, Shirley Harms for getting the girls' jackets ready in time for Provincials, Sew Good Sewing and Lina Marcoux for making two extra pairs of uniform pants, and most of all, the parents and fans who gave us their support even when times were down.
